

DR. GRETA OLIVER

ABOUT

Holding a Doctoral Degree in Higher Education from Ohio University, Dr. Greta Thomas Oliver is a professional coach who specializes in student development. Having spent years in the classroom as a student and teacher, Dr. Oliver is devoted to helping students transition from high school to higher education. Her areas of expertise include student development, program administration, student recruitment, student retention, career preparation, and program development. She is the owner of Greta Oliver Consulting, a hands-on consulting business that specializes in transitioning to higher education, personal development, and career training. Dr. Oliver can be contacted at drgreta@gretaoliverconsulting.com or (740) 818-9745, and her website is www.GretaOliverConsulting.com.

SUGGESTED QUESTIONS

- » What inspired you to write the book?
- » Who is the book written for, parents or students?
- » What's the main thing you wish you had known before going to college?
- » What's the main take-away that you want to communicate to readers?
- » Is college for everyone?

THE BOOK

College Roadmap stole the show on twelve of Amazon's best seller lists on August 24, 2021, held the number one spot on nine Hot New Release lists, and had top ranking on Amazon CA (Canada). Written through the lens of a first-generation college student who persisted through three universities and as a mother of four who each had their own college experiences, this is the college workbook and roadmap she wishes she'd had for herself, her parents, and her children and includes 20 key tips to guide your journey with less stress and more control.

Inside these pages, you will discover:

- Ways to navigate the three phases of the college search (Before the Search, During the Wait, and After Acceptance) with ease and confidence
- How the roadmap processes all work together to find a college that fits your high schooler

HOT TOPICS

Specific tips for families and students to make the search process easier for prospective students

Advice on navigating financial aid applications and staying on top of finances on campus

Strategies to help students start strong academically and stay on top of their studies

How to find your advocates on campus and to get the help you need as a student

